

Since 1772 when Asbury was entertained by Quaker friends at Crosswicks, Methodism had ties in that countryside. In the summer of 1851 the wife of the Crosswicks pastor, the Rev. Socrates Townsend began a Sunday School in the Extonville schoolhouse, followed in the fall by a revival. A Quaker convert, Enoch Rogers, and the pastor, drew up a subscription list for a church to be built at Shelltown. This was the name of the nearby village until about 1860 when it was renamed in honor of Francis Ellis, an early settler.

The minutes from 1852 to 1874 are lost but it is known that the site was bought, the building erected and the society incorporated in 1852. In 1876 the burial ground was laid out and in 1886 a vestibule and stained glass windows were added. As with other Central Jersey rural churches harvest home gathering drew great crowds until the gas rationing of World War II. A bell tower and bell was added in 1903 and a harvest home kitchen was built in 1912 and a social hall added to it in 1917. Parking grounds were given by Daniel Reeves in the 1930's while a Trust Fund was left in 1945 by a friend, George R. Waln.

Old Home Day has been observed each fall and because of interest in this event the cemetery was provided for and it is now incorporated (since 1945) as The Ellisdale Cemetery Association. After all these years Ellisdale and Crosswicks are still connected, and in 1958 the circuit became a full-time charge.
